THE 1968

King

Jack

Webb City High School

Webb City, Missouri

Dedication

We, the 1968 King Jack staff, in the hope that man will one day strive to build a world without soldiers, dedicate this yearbook to peace.

It is our wish that one day men will no longer raise their hands in anger but instead extend their hands in friendship.

Foreword

As the school years roll by, freshmen become sophomores, sophomores become juniors, and juniors become seniors. The King Jack is printed for the purpose of recording each students yearly advancement. But it serves mainly as a memory book bringing back moments of glory, heartbreak and the never-ending joys of youth. It is the sincere wish of the '68 King Jack Staff that as the pages of this book are turned time and again they will relive all the wonderful, innocent experiences of the high school years.

68 Class Officers

The senior year of high school is usually marked by the closing of many youthful and industrious hours. However, for the class of '68 it is just the beginning. Many seniors have already left their mark on Webb City and are striving for bigger and better advancements. The Class of '68 will always dominate!

Seated: Mary Siegfried, secretary; Steve Fullmer, president. Standing: Jim McCallister, treasurer. Not present: Jim Davis, vice-president.

Guidance Counselors Offer Students Aid

Mrs. Myrna McDaniel and Mrs. Lillian Lee share the counseling responsibilities for grades 7-12. Their job involves three types of counseling: educational, which is helping the student to plan his schedule; vocational, which is aiding the student to make a career choice and plan his future; and personal, which is helping the student with his personal problems. They assist in bettering student-teacher relationship, and are in charge of administering psychological and achievement tests.

Mrs. McDaniel has been a counselor at WCHS for three years. Previous to that she taught English for three years. Mrs. McDaniel usually assists sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Mrs. Lee has been a counselor for two years. Prior to this she taught Home Economics for nine years. Mrs. Lee helps seventh and eighth graders, and freshmen.

Stuco Initiates Responsibilities

Jack Dawson, President; Patty Goddard, Secretary; Steve Kirkham, Vice-President; Bret Baker, Parliamentarian; Gary Brown, Treasurer.

The Student Council, which represents each student of Webb City High School, has progressed considerably. Starting this year, Student Council is using Parliamentary procedure at each meeting. With this procedure they have been able to do more to help our school. As of this year, STUCO has also added representatives of each club. This has helped to keep the clubs well informed of the STUCO activities. We, the Student Body, have reason to be proud of our Student Council.
